DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 7-28, as stated in the July 19, 2004 amendment, have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 7, 12, 16 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by GB 1165807.

'807 teaches a composition to be applied to sand molds and cores that comprises a hydrogenated vegetable oil such as castor oil and isopropanol. The isopropanol appears to be reducing the viscosity of the vegetable oil suspension agent (see Abstract, 2:16-3:85).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1762

5. Claims 14-15, 17-18 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over GB 1165807.

'807 is applied here for the reasons given above.

'807 teaches castor oil and isopropanol, but it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have substituted other vegetable oils and other alcohols, such as corn oil and ethanol, with the expectation of equivalent results.

'807 does not teach the benzene content, but there appears to be nothing in the coating composition that would produce benzene.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 8-11, 13, 19-22, 24 and 26-28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Erma Cameron whose telephone number is 571-272-1416. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30-6:00, alternate Fridays off.
